Quality in Revegetation & Rehabilitation

Standards • Education • Involvement • Improvement

FORMATION

The Revegetation Industry Association has been formed to provide a voice for the industry in terms of continued improvement of standards and accountability, environmental legislation and environmental sustainability. While several important associations already exist including the Environmental Consultants Association, Nursery Industry Association, and the Australian Association of Bush Regenerators, the revegetation industry is more than just the sum of these associations. We aim to encourage the communication of ideas and the dissemination of current information throughout the industry, providing a framework for environmental best practice.

Our members will benefit from coordinated representation and involvement in revegetation and rehabilitation practices and the development of industry standards. We therefore encourage membership and participation from all sectors of the industry including:

- Revegetation operators
- Seed collectors and suppliers
- Nurseries and plant propagators
- Land managers and surface cultivators
- Weed managers
- Botanists, zoologists, and ecologists
- Mining sector
- Industry regulators and decision makers

CODE OF PRACTICE

A RIAWA member should:

1. Act with honesty and integrity and uphold high standards of competence in all business and professional activities.
2. Demonstrate ethical principles and community responsibility, and only practice in areas in which they are competent.
3. Uphold and promote the reputation of the Revegetation Industry Association of WA Inc.
4. Be personally accountable for the validity of all work they carry out or direct.
5. Engage in continued learning to maintain and improve skills and competence within the industry and promote innovation and excellence in practice.

OBJECTIVES

- To develop, improve and promote best practice standards for all aspects of revegetation
- To develop and facilitate training and accreditation systems for the revegetation industry
- To promote the interests of the association and its members
- To promote reputable conduct by members
- To educate practitioners, clients and regulatory authorities in matters of professional interest
- To promote informed debate about revegetation matters and procedures
- To promote sustainable revegetation and restoration systems
- To promote protection of biodiversity through revegetation practices
- To promote social and professional contact between members
